Deed to New Land Secured-Kenmount Road, Mount Pearl

April 19, 2018 | NL Adventist Communications

The official Deed to the newly purchased parcel of land on Kenmount Road has been received by the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Newfoundland and Labrador (SDACNL) office.

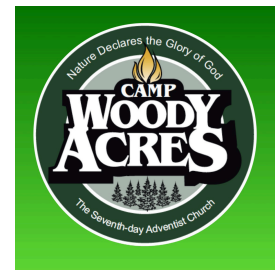

Application for the piece of Crown land was originally made in April, 2014. The Crown approved the request in April, 2017. And now, in April, 2018 the official Deed has been secured.

The additional property will provide the SDACNL options to adjust placement of the proposed VOAR/SDACNL studio-office facility. It could also "allow for future use or development, or sale", stated Jack Baier.

Junior/Teen Camp Registration Update

April 18, 2018 | NL Adventist Communications

On April 15, registration opened for Junior Camp and Teen Camp. As of April 18, we have received applications from 11 teen and 35 junior campers. This is a tremendous response! We are excited to see parents and students responding early!

Given the high response rate, we want to encourage those who may be contemplating attending, to not delay submitting their application. Space is limited, and we are encouraging parents who have children that are on the border age 12-13, to only have their child attend one of the camps. In past years, we allowed those children who are at the transition age to attend one or the other or both. This year, we ask that you choose one.

To register, visit us on the web at: <http://www.nladventist.ca> And follow the Woody Acres links.

NL Adventist Communications

Leslie N. Pollard is a Seventh-day Adventist minister, author, and administrator. Since 2011 he has served as the eleventh president of Oakwood University, the church's sole HBCU (Historically black colleges and universities).^[1]

Pollard began his career in 1978 as a Seventh-day Adventist pastor. In nearly two decades of ministry, he led several notable churches, including Kansas Avenue (Riverside, California), Berean (Los Angeles, California), and Oakwood University Church (Huntsville, Alabama), and gained an international reputation as an effective evangelist.^[3]

From 1996 to 2011 Pollard was the vice president for diversity at Loma Linda University, the second individual to hold the position. Considered an authority on diversity, in 2000 he published Embracing Diversity: How to Understand and Reach People of All Cultures.^[4]

Pollard began his presidency at Oakwood University in January 2011. His tenure is notable for the launch of Oakwood Online University;^[5] more than $30 million of construction and renovation, most notably the Peters Media Center;^[6] the creation of Oakwood Organic Farms, the largest urban farm in Northern Alabama;^[7] the establishment of separate schools within the university; a considerable faculty and staff downsizing;^[8] and the placement of Oakwood University as an institution of the North American Division instead of its previous status as a General Conference institution.^[9] Pollard is also noted for a strong social media presence and involvement in national politics.^[10]
