Member Spotlight

February 27, 2019 | Information and picture from Chantal Dianne Normore

Chantal Dianne Normore lives in Corner Brook. She was born and raised there along with her two siblings. Chantal enjoys spending time with friends. In the summer, she enjoys going downtown for walks; however, in the winter she enjoys staying inside. Also, during the summer, she looks forward to attending Camp Woody Acres. For many years, Chantal has been attending camp and has grown through the different divisions.

She truly enjoys the opportunity to see her friends from across Newfoundland, but her favourite place to be is at the waterfront. At the waterfront, you would most likely find Chantal swimming with an occasional boat ride. Chantal, for many years, was in the youth department where she worshipped with the young adults and shared some of her talents. Chantal has been blessed with a talent for making beautiful music. She has been writing poetry and music for as long as she can remember. She loves being creative and writing about Jesus and his Love for us. One of her pieces entitled "You Love Us Lord" says:

Lord, we want to be faithful to you
In what we do
And we want to love you forever
More than today. More than words can say, cause you gave your love you and lived died for us, for us, you paid the wage of sins for me, for me, now the least we can do is live our life for you.

Chantal says that she attends the Corner Brook Seventh-day Adventist Church and some of her favourite parts are telling and listening to the Children's Stories. Chantal is one of our many members who loves Jesus and children and believes in the importance of praising Jesus through music and praise.

Bay Roberts

February 26, 2019 | Information provided from Bruce Smallwood

On January 22, 2019, the Bay Roberts Seventh-day Adventist Church suffered some severe damages from a leaking oil tank. Although the furnace oil tank had been certified until 2020, there was a small hole which broke the integrity of the tank, and it began to leak. Within days of a fill, over 600 liters of furnace oil leaked out onto the ground. When Bruce Smallwood arrived to increase the heat in preparation for the weekend he found that the oil tank was empty, and the ground was soaked with oil. Bruce contacted the Mission Office and the staff was contacted as well as the Department of Environment to report the oil spill. An Environmental Consulting Firm was hired to oversee the cleanup. Bruce also contacted a plumbing company so a temporary tank could be installed that evening providing constant heat source to prevent the pipes from freezing. Local excavating/trucking contractor was hired to begin digging test holes to take soil samples and start removing soil from the affected area near the tank. The soil had to be transported to an environmental site in St. John's to be processed. It was determined that the oil had leaked under the foundation of the gym.

After considering the option of digging up the gym floor, it was voted that the most cost-effective method was to tear down the gym. Thanks to Bruce Smallwood who ran a generator three times per day beginning around 5 AM and ending around 10 PM, for a week, to keep the furnace running to heat the church. Removing the gym delayed the cleanup of the contaminated ground for a few weeks; however, work has resumed this week and will continue until completed.

The Mission has stepped up and is providing the funds to cover the cleanup and renovations as they arise. Since mid-January, they have removed the gymnasium and have had to redecorate the basement fellowship hall. The members of Bay Roberts have had services and Prayer Meetings in their homes and have kept up with their ministries, despite the structural setbacks. The Bay Roberts Seventh-day Adventist Church membership are happy to announce that beginning this Sabbath, worship will resume at the church once again! Thank you to all the members who have volunteered their homes, time, and prayers for the church.
