Submitted By: Sarah- Kay Joseph

On Saturday, November 9th, the St. John's Seventh-day Adventist Church held a benefit concert for the Nateghi family, a refugee family from Iran who have recently arrived in Newfoundland. The program celebrated the talents of the diverse congregation. The performers in the program were born in Botswana, Canada, Cuba, Cyprus, El Salvador, Jamaica, Montenegro, the Philippines, and Zimbabwe. Together from many nations, they lifted their voices in scripture and praise to our one Lord."

NL YOUTH TRIP TO BURMAN UNIVERSITY

Submitted By: Kaitlynn Harushimana

Two of the Newfoundland Youth were able to attend a Burman University U-Experience. Leaving bright and early Thursday morning, Katie Worden, Christy Stokes-Vincent, and Kaitlynn Harushimana took off on their weekend preview. Upon arrival, they traveled to Lacombe, where they were able to have a tour of the University Campus. Meeting up with old friends who have been workers at Camp Woody Acres in the past, and making some new friends on campus. During their time at Burman, they were able to meet the professors in their faculties of interest, discuss financing and scholarships, attend the BU choir, and watch the Men and Woman's volleyball teams. Their Sabbath included Sabbath School in the dorm, College Heights Church, and a lovely afternoon with friends. The weekend ended with a trip to the Calgary Zoo with some old friends Tara, Meryn, and Abra Ennest and Lucy and Agnes Ollila.

Katie Worden says, " My experience at Burman was much different than I was expecting. Upon seeing the campus, I realized how beautiful Alberta was. The university was modern, clean, and the people were amiable. My favorite part of the school was the gymnasium. I loved the size and all of the programs they have to offer. Soon to be graduating, I am considering Burman University as an option. It was refreshing to meet other Adventists my age, see the growing church, and meet the caring teachers. I truly enjoyed this trip, and if I attend Burman, I will be pursuing a Bachelor of Science, focusing on either Nursing or Pre-Med."

Christy Vincent says, " My experience at Burman University was more than I was expecting. My first thought about the campus is that it was much bigger than I was expecting. It was exciting to find out that the university campus also had a high school, and there were many people, even in grade 11, like myself. Every single person we met was very friendly and caring, and I felt as if I was home on the campus and was sad to say goodbye. I want to attend PAA, and if not, Burman. If I go to Burman, I would like to study Behavioural Science and become a counselor."
